

In preparation for a new year of hard work and dedication, we'd like to welcome you to the new Kalaeloa Raceway Park website!

We invite you to check out all the new details and try out the site's new features. You can rearrange nearly every category on the main page, follow our tweets, and check out the latest posts from the official forum! Also, make sure to join our community, create your own Racing Profile, upload your favorite rides and racecars, and tell us a little about yourself! Once we have events underway, you'll also be able preview upcoming events on our Calendar as well as check out the latest results and articles in an easy to read format! We're preparing KRP Online to be the central hub for everything racing related at Kalaeloa Raceway Park!

Mahalo for your support and please don't forget to keep checking back as we update the site! With hope, 2010 will be the year when racing gets back on track on Oahu!
